(b) As per the Transfer Policy of AAI for general locations, an officer is transferred from one station to another within the Region after a minimum period of three years at that station and from one Region to another Region after a minimum period of five years in that Region but no maximum period of stay is specified. However, the officer is actually transferred on his turn as per the seniority and length of stay amongst the officers eligible for transfer. Moreover, officers may be transferred or retained at any time in view of operational requirement. Since either these officers are not due for transfer as per their turn or due to operational requirements, they have not been transferred.

(c) Every year the officers are considered for transfer by AAI as per the transfer policy.
